

CLARA SMITH HAMON TAKES STAND; TELLS STORY OF SHOOTING

Breaks Down Several Times During Her
Testimony—Attorneys Have Clash Over
Remark About Character of Defendant's
Mother—Woman Bares Shame to World

(By The Associated Press)
ARDMORE, Okla., March 15.—Clara Smith Hamon took the witness stand today in her trial on a charge of having murdered Colonel Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma and reputed millionaire, and told her version of the firing of the fatal bullet and underwent a strenuous four hour cross-examination.

Speaking in a low pitched, dramatic tone, she told the jury her story of the occurrences of the day and night of November 21 last, culminating in the firing into his body of a bullet from the tiny automatic pistol she said she held in her right hand.

"It went off as it fell, or I pulled the trigger, or something, as he hit me," she said in explaining the firing of the pistol as the climax to a fight she had waged with the man with whom she had lived eight or nine years. She said that he struck her with a chair after he had choked, beaten, kicked and otherwise mistreated her. As to how the actual shooting came about, she said she did not know.

"I don't know," she said, "the gun went off."

Breaks Down and Weeps.
Three times during her narrative the petite defendant broke into tears and wept silently into her handkerchief, once coming to the verge of complete collapse. Tears first came to her eyes as she spoke of the inception of the fight, Colonel Hamon, she said, having snatched her into a chair beside him in front of the hotel where they lived, cursed her and accused her of having been automobile riding with some one.

With the words "Clara, you hit me!" which she said the colonel exclaimed when she shot him, the young woman came nearest to a breakdown. She said that Colonel Hamon threw back his vest and showed her a widening spot of blood forming on his right chest.

It was a few minutes before she could continue her story.

Again she faltered in her testimony, her voice quivered and she cried when she said that on the morning after Colonel Hamon was shot he sent for her to come to the hospital to which he had walked after being wounded, opened his arms to her, pulled her down to him, kissed her and said he hoped she had not been badly hurt in the fight and that it would not have happened had he not been drinking.

Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, the widow, sat a few feet away from Clara Hamon as she testified, intently watching the slender woman as she sat in the witness chair and related the incidents leading to Mr. Hamon's fatal wounding. The face of the witness was expressionless, but her eyes were pressed close to one point in Clara Hamon's story she bit her lip and closed her eyes tightly in an effort to preserve her self-control.

Demonstrates to Jury.
Twice during her stay on the witness stand the young woman stepped down from the dais, and, with the automatic pistol with which Colonel Hamon was shot, in her hand, walked before the jury to show in what manner he had been wounded. On cross-examination Attorney General Freling, a man of approximately the same build as Hamon, had her point the weapon toward him, while he assumed the position which she said Hamon was in.

She gave a low voiced "no" in reply to a question on cross-examination if there had been a child born as a result of her many years association with Colonel Hamon and in another answer said that she did not know that he had left a will but that he always had said he intended for her to be provided for, and that she had said that if she did obtain any money after Colonel Hamon's death she wanted to educate her younger brother

WRITES TO WOOL GROWERS
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 15.—President Harding has written to Professor F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association expressing the hope that there will be no delay in the passing of tariff legislation. The letter was in response to a telegram directed to the president by the wool growers' association.

GIGANTIC WOOL POOL IS PLANNED
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 15.—A gigantic wool pool to provide for the warehousing and marketing of 25,000,000 pounds is the plan devised by a sub-committee of the Utah State Farm Bureau, according to announcement today. The plan will be presented to Utah wool growers at a meeting to be held here March 21.

Public Utilities Have Big Contract
CHICAGO, March 15.—The public utilities of Illinois must not only maintain efficient service for 7,000,000 daily customers, but must put on their fighting clothes and maintain such credit as will enable them to obtain half a billion dollars in the next three years for extensions in existing gas, electric, transportation and communication facilities such as will enable solution of the acute housing situation. W. M. Willett, president of the Illinois Gas Association, said at the joint convention of the Illinois Gas Association, Illinois State Association tion and the Illinois Electric Railways Association today.

"Inadequate as our revenues have been," he said, "due to the burdens imposed upon us in the shape of operating expenses over which we have no control, we must find a way to keep the industry not only alive and functioning, but progressing and growing so that the peoples' interest may be served. It will be only thru the fullest co-operation that this situation of the headquarters of the organization from St. Louis to Clinton, Iowa, where the next convention will be held."

OBSTACLES FOR ALLOCATION OF SHIPS REMOVED

Shipping Board to Allocate Ships to Detroit Company

PLAN OF BOARD IS EXPLAINED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Obstacles in the way of full allocation of government tonnage for operation in the New Orleans-Brazil trade have been removed, former Commissioner Sutter of the shipping board announced tonight. The action was taken, he added, notwithstanding the refusal of the board last month to allocate ships to the United States maritime and development company of Detroit.

On the protest of the Mississippi Shipping company, Mr. Sutter explained the board refused to allocate ships to the Detroit company. But on March 3, he added, the board by resolution gave the Detroit company the standing of an operator which would enable it to apply for government ships upon the showing that they would not be operated in competition with established routes.

Explains Board's Plan.
The board's plan, Mr. Sutter declared is to build up the shipping in the gulf ports for the benefit of the Mississippi Valley section, so that products originating there will have a more direct route to the foreign markets than by way of Atlantic ports.

"The solution of the American Merchant Marine problem," he said, "lies in the Mississippi Valley where 70 per cent of the country's foreign commerce originates."

Detroit and St. Louis capital already interested in the operation of government ships out of gulf ports, Mr. Sutter asserted and the board hopes to dispose of a number of its vessels thru creating a market for ships in the Mississippi valley. Allocation of sufficient tonnage to the gulf ports he said would enable producers as far north as the Great Lakes to send their goods by rail or inland water routes to the gulf and thereby avoid the rail shipment to the Atlantic. Development of this project he added, would be pushed but definite action would probably await the appointment of the shipping board by President Harding.

AMERICANIZATION TO UNITED STATES

Dr. David Jayne Hill Says
This Must Be Done
By Workers

NATIONAL AMERICAN COUNCIL ORGANIZED

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representatives of nearly eighty civic and patriotic organizations engaged in Americanization work, meeting here today, organized the National American Council. The object of the new organization was declared to be the co-ordination of the work and plans of the various organizations engaged in patriotic and civic activities, the obtaining of the co-operation of the public, elimination of duplication and waste and minimization of financial appeals for support. The constitution adopted by the council specifically forbids it entering economic, industrial, sectarian or partisan political fields.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany, in taking the chair as permanent presiding officer of the conference, said those engaged in the Americanization work must confine their efforts to the United States and have nothing to do with foreign governments. Col. Frank W. Galbreath, Jr., commander of the American Legion, declared there was "never a time" when Americanization work was needed more, because, he said, "un-American and disloyal propaganda is being openly preached, some of it inspired by foreign sources and some by the interest of foreign governments."

Colin H. Livingston, president of the Boy Scouts, told the conference that groups of foreigners must be prevented from using "us as a battle grounds" for their interests, otherwise "we are liable to disintegrate into groups fighting for foreign governments."

"The object should be to make Americans in love with their own country."

ST. LOUIS MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT
St. Louis, Mo., March 15.—C. E. Lightfoot, of St. Louis, was elected president of the Mississippi River Scene Highway association at the annual convention held today. It was voted to transfer the headquarters of the organization from St. Louis to Clinton, Iowa, where the next convention will be held.

Eastern R.R. Workers To Reject Proposals

NEW YORK, March 15.—Railroad workers in the East have decided to reject all proposals of wage reductions and will carry their fight to the railroad labor board, if the cuts are put into effect.

Representatives of the workers who have been holding conferences here, it was definitely learned tonight, have decided upon this course, taking the position that the present wage standards must be maintained and economic conditions will not permit any reduction.

There is little danger of any cessation of work should the railroads put the reductions, ranging from 17 1-2 and 21 per cent, in force, union officials said, as the employees will appeal to the railroad labor board at Chicago and abide by its decision. The railroad managements, it is understood, will also obey the board's edict.

Representatives of the skilled workers of the New York Central with the exception of those in the Big Four brotherhoods, it was learned, also decided to reject proposed wage cuts.

PACKING EMPLOYEES MEET IN CHICAGO

Plan United Action Against Reduction of Wages and Readjustment of Working Hours.

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, March 15.—Representatives of employees in the packing industry from all parts of the country will meet in Chicago tomorrow to plan for united action against the reduction in wages and readjustment of working hours which was put into effect on Monday.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has been expected to attend the conference but word was received from him late today that he would be unable to be present but would be represented by Thomas Rickert, vice president of the federation.

While strike ballots were being mailed to various parts of the country today the employees of Armour & Co., took the first step to put into effect the plan for an industrial democracy recently announced by the company by electing 21 of their fellow employees to act as a committee carrying out further details of the conference plan.

The election was hailed by the company as a test of the strength which might be exerted by union leaders who publicly called upon the employees to refrain from voting. It was announced that 70 per cent of the hourly time employees voted at the election.

GENERAL COMMITTEE
DISCUSSES PROBLEMS
Omaha, Neb., March 14.—The general committee of the United Pacific Family League, an organization of employees formed to promote their welfare went into session today to discuss relief measures for the road's employees who were dismissed from service as a result of reductions made in the Union Pacific working forces.

WISCONSIN RATE CASE ARGUMENTS ARE COMPLETED

One of Most Important
States' Rights Issues in Years

INCREASE IN EXCESS OF AMOUNT NEEDED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Arguments in the Wisconsin rate case, described by some participating attorneys as "the most important states' rights issue before the supreme court in many years," were closed after having held attention of the court for three days.

M. B. Olbrich, special counsel for Wisconsin, summed up for that state and for the 42 other states which joined Wisconsin in opposing the authority to supervise state rates claimed by the interstate commerce commission under the Transportation Act of 1920.

P. J. Farrell, appearing for the interstate commerce commission, cited specific instances of alleged discrimination against interstate rates when a state was allowed to maintain lower schedules within its borders. As a result, he said, so far as revenues of the carriers were concerned interstate commerce is converted into intra-state.

Denies Arbitrary Action.
He denied that the commission had acted "arbitrarily" in raising rates and argued that adequate authority for its action could be found in the commerce act, under which the commission was organized.

A new angle was given today when in a supplemental brief, counsel for the various states attacked the commission's order for increased rates providing revenues far in excess of the amount guaranteed the carriers under the transportation act. The western territory the brief said, an increase of 6 1/2 per cent in passenger fares would have been sufficient to return six per cent on the roads' agreed inauguration instead of the 20 per cent ordered.

SANGAMON COUNTY SHERIFF IS FACING SERIOUS CHARGE

Is Accused of Striking Handcuffed Prisoner in Face

DICK SULLIVAN'S NAME IN CASE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 15.—Sheriff Henry Mester, of Sangamon county, was found guilty by the state supreme court today of striking a handcuffed prisoner in the face. The verdict, without recommendation, was delivered to Director C. H. Jenkins, of the state department of public welfare, by Judge B. R. Burroughs of Edwardsville, member of the commission.

Along with the verdict the commission disclosed evidence taken at the investigation, yesterday, at which J. W. Schoonmaker, the prisoner, told that Dick Sullivan, Republican political leader in Springfield, had offered him in jail and had given him fifty cents, "to stand by the sheriff."

The newspaper reporters who appeared, told that the sheriff had struck Schoonmaker "fifteen to twenty times in the face."

The sheriff denied that his blows had reached the boy's face. Schoonmaker, he said, threw up his handcuffed wrists and saved his face.

The sheriff also admitted having struck another prisoner named Wilson.

Dick Sullivan, political leader, did not appear at the hearing, but explained later, Judge Burroughs said, that he had given the boy the fifty cents to buy cigarettes.

HISTORY OF STREET RAILWAY RELATED BY MAYOR THOMPSON

Says That It is a Story of Broken Pledges—
Makes Plea in Springfield for His Peoples'
Ownership Traction Bill Carrying Five
Cent Fare—The Galleries Are Crowded

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 15.—Street railway history in Chicago was told as a story of the street car company's "broken pledges," to the public utilities committees of the senate and house today by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, Chester Cleveland of the corporation counsel's office and former Judge George F. Barrett, special counsel for the mayor's traction commission.

With the galleries full they argued for three hours on the Thompson "Peoples' Ownership" traction bill which carries a five cent fare clause.

Senator Frank P. Sadler, anti-Thompson Republican from the Eleventh District was the only member of the legislature to show much open hostility to the measure. He heckled both Mr. Cleveland and Judge Barrett on questions of taxation.

MANY PAY INCOME TAX IN NEW YORK CITY ON FIRST DAY

Officials Say They Were Weary of Accepting the Money

MANY INCOMES SHOW SHRINKAGE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 15.—New York financial center of the nation today found a golden stream into government coffers with first payment on federal income taxes.

"Big Bill" Edwards, collector of internal revenue and his staff admitted that they were weary of accepting money. They made a prediction that when the final penny was counted it would be found that more people had paid income taxes here this year than ever before, but they had turned in smaller amounts.

Incomes Show Shrinkage.
Depression in business, and increasing unemployment played their part in making up tax returns for 1920. Officials said that many persons who had incomes in five figures a year ago reported earnings during 1920 of only $5,000 or less. Incomes of many big corporations also shrunk during the last year.

Several persons who sent in payments of two cents spent twelve cents each to send them in registered envelopes. Several unemployed married women reported individual incomes due to playing the ponies, and "bridge parties."

One man confined in the Tombs prison sent in a request for a thirty day time extension, explaining that he was "temporarily detained." Several waiters reorted tips approaching $1,000.

WASHINGTON WOMAN GIVEN APPOINTMENT

New York, March 15.—Mrs. Hamilton Wright of Washington, D. C., has been appointed by the council of the league of nations to the board of assessors which will co-operate with the league's advisory committee on traffic in opium, it was announced today.

Mrs. Wright is the widow of the late Dr. Hamilton Wright, known internationally as a foe of the narcotic traffic and a member of the peace commission in Paris where he was killed in a street accident.

TREASURY CERTIFICATES
OVERSUBSCRIBED

Washington, March 15.—Subscriptions to the two issues of treasury certificates of indebtedness, which closed tonight, aggregated approximately $460,000,000, Secretary Mellon announced. The treasury called for about $400,000,000 and the oversubscription was said by officials to substantiate their belief that the money market had improved and that future issues of government securities would find a ready market.

Sleeping Car Burns on Speeding Train

WALSBERG, Colo., March 15.—At least five bodies, burned in the charred debris of a sleeping coach ten miles north of Walsburg tonight, present the mute evidence of one of the most unusual tragedies in the history of railroading on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

The sleeper, last coach on Train No. 115, due in Walsburg at 1:50 o'clock this morning, caught on fire just before it reached Lasker, 15 miles from here, while the train was running at high speed behind schedule.

It is a coincidence that the army and navy bills both of the measures providing funds for the national defense should have failed of enactment in the last congress. But fortunately the special session of congress will be able to pass them and make the money available before the expiration of the present fiscal year on June 30th.

THOMAS' TRIBUTE TO THE SENATE

Hon. Charles S. Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado after eight years recently retired. Just before adjournment he paid this tribute. Before one enters this illustrious body," said Senator Thomas, "he is prone to entertain opinions and impressions of its members, gathered from expressions in the public press or from a general course of public opinion which has been frequently misdirected and more frequently erroneous. My personal experience confirms the view that there is in public life neither here nor elsewhere any body of men, taken by and large, whose standards are higher, whose capacity for service is greater, whose patriotism is purer, than the members of this greatest deliberative body in the world. While we differ materially upon matters both of principle and of procedure, we make progress by respecting the convictions of each other, and at the close of our service we perceive in retrospect that succeeding senates have striven to serve the country according to their own ideals, their standards of duty, and the pressing problems of their times.

AGAINST PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

The counsel of several street railway companies in Massachusetts has urged before the public utilities commission of that State that it is the duty of the public to furnish transportation free of cost to all riders, the expense to be paid from the public treasury. He contended that a street car is a moving highway, and should be publicly maintained in the same manner as highways of the stationary variety.

This is one of the fallacies against which the people should be on the alert. Happily they are becoming less numerous, although-but a short time ago each wheel brought forth a new crop. Of course public ownership of street railways is but a step to government ownership of steam railroads. There is no difference in principle between a street car and an automobile. The latter can traverse more streets than the former which is confined to a track. Why not provide an automobile at public expense for every man? Channels in rivers and harbors are dredged and kept in condition at public expense. Why not provide ships also and invite the people to ride on them free of charge?

Fortunately the drift to paternalism has changed and private initiative is recognized as the means thru which the public welfare can best be served. There are certain functions of government that are indispensable to it. The maintenance of public order and of public health are among them. But for the government to enter into any activity not fundamentally connected with its legitimate functions is wrong. The transportation of citizens about a city or from State to State is certainly not within the scope of a government such as ours.

It finally develops that the United States has full control of the island of Yap, out in the Pacific. It will be a very pleasing thing if the island's name is changed. Such a strategic island is certainly entitled to an appellation with a more dignified sound.

It's a trite saying, but just now you can do nothing more practical for beautifying your home city than the planting of a little grass seed and the trimming of the trees and shrubbery that may be in your yard or in the street adjacent.

One of the reports made public recently shows that $8,000,000 worth of express was lost during the period of government ownership. No figures are available for comparison, but it is said that this sum is very much in excess of the losses shown during any like period of private ownership and control. Certainly there is nothing in the statement to show increased efficiency under government control nor the presentation of any argument for it.

In the argument before the Illinois legislature, yesterday, on Mayor Thompson's traction bill, it was stated that 10 per cent of the people in Chicago pay all the taxes, and that it is not surprising that 90 per cent should favor the 5-cent street car fare. The proposal is that any deficit in the operation of the street railways on a 5-cent fare shall be provided thru taxation. If the percentages quoted are correct, it is not surprising that a great majority of the people clamor for the lower street car fares.

In the same connection it may be mentioned that no satisfactory explanation has ever been given as to just why Chicago street railways are operated at a much higher cost per passenger than are the street railways in New York City.

FR. D. J. MORONEY LAID TO REST TUESDAY

Funeral Service for Deceased Priest Very Impressive—Many Non-Residents Here.

Seldom has there been such a largely attended funeral service at the Church of Our Savior as that held Tuesday morning in memory of Rev. Father David J. Moroney, dean of the Alton diocese. The throng of Jacksonville and Morgan county people was augmented by visitors from surrounding territory, more than 150 coming from Carrollton, where Father Moroney has been stationed for a number of years. There were both Catholics and non-Catholics in this group of visitors, as Father Moroney held a large place in the hearts of the people of Carrollton.

Solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father John T. Moroney, of Pana, a brother of the dead priest. Father A. E. Robinson, of Pana, was the deacon; Father Sheehy, of Carrollton, sub-deacon; and Father Edward Cahill, of Jacksonville, master of ceremonies. The funeral address was delivered by Rev. Father Driscoll, pastor of St. Peter's church at Quincy. Father Driscoll had known the deceased thru a period of years and bore testimony to the sincerity, unselfishness and earnestness of his religious life. The Quincy priest said that in this world there are but two ways to go, and that Father Moroney, in the days of his childhood, chose the right course and followed it consistently, achieving a large and influential place in the priesthood.

Following the impressive services at the church, the remains were conveyed to Calvary cemetery for interment. As stated yesterday, more than 50 priests from various points in the Alton diocese were in the city to attend the funeral service. The pall bearers were, with one exception, nephews of the deceased and were John D. Louis, Merle, Oliver, Harry, Thomas, George and Fred Cain.

The Wednesday class will meet with Mrs. Jno. L. Johnson, at Woodland Place.

AMERICAN LEGION POST HAD SOCIAL MEETING

Members of Local Post Enjoy Program and Social Time Tuesday Evening—Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce Represented on Program.

Members of the local American Legion post enjoyed a social meeting last night at the Elks club rooms. There were fifty in attendance and a program of interest was presented. Several representatives of the Rotary club were present and a brief talk was made by Vincent R. Riley. The speaker touched upon various lines of endeavor looking toward community betterment, to which member of the American Legion might lend their influence, and pledged the support of the Rotary club to any worth while movement which the post may undertake.

Henry Frisch, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was also present and made a brief address. Mr. Frisch emphasized the need there is in the community for co-operative effort on the part of organizations such as the American Legion.

Several musical numbers were furnished by the "Cackle Jazz" quartet and these added much to the pleasure of the evening.

A committee of twelve was named to visit Jacksonville State hospital next Sunday. There are fifty-one ex-servicemen now under treatment at the hospital and each Sunday a number of men from the Post visit the hospital for the purpose of keeping these ex-soldiers in touch with outside affairs and with the doings of the American Legion.

A report from headquarters was read last night, indicating that it is the intention at an early date to have at least 200 ex-servicemen under treatment at the local hospital. This plan has been determined upon in view of the fact that conditions here are reported to be better than at any similar institution in the state.

At the close of the formal program came a social time and refreshments. The legionnaires will meet on next Tuesday, April 5, when a business session will be held.

Closing out sale, Wed., March 16.—Frank Mawson.

A TOM MIX FILM AT GRAND TODAY
Tom Mix's company, which recently completed filming "The Texan," a William Fox production from the novel by James E. Hendryx, which is to open at the Grand theater today, succeeded in obtaining some excellent material for the picture during the big championship rodeo held at Prescott, Ariz., as part of the "Frontier Days" celebration.

The daring exploits of the cowboys during the steer bulldogging events, the broncho "busting" and contests of skill with the lariat as recorded on the film, will be interesting to persons all over the country—especially to followers of the Western type of story. Incidentally many of Mix's cowboys, who figure in every Mix picture, entered the events and several succeeded in carryin' away first honors.

Mix himself served as one of the judges during the week of festivity and games. Pat Chrisman, a Mix cowpuncher, won the first prize for the best appearance at the parade, and Ed Henderson, who received first money in the star bulldogging contest when he defeated "Wild Bill" Simon, the idol of Yavapai county, by a half a second.

LOSS IN TONNAGE

Chicago and Alton freight traffic showed a big decline during February. The figures are given in the Bloomington Pantagraph: During that month the company handled 2,018,250 tons, against one mile, against 419,653,251 during the same month one year ago. The northern division showed about the same decline as the southern. Between Chicago and Bloomington the company moved 89,000,000 gross tons one mile in February, against 106,000,000 during the same month last year, while between Bloomington and Venice the company moved 81,000,000 gross tons one mile last month against 99,000,000 one year ago. The showing for March will probably be better. Between 7 p. m. and midnight, Sunday, eight heavy freight trains came into Bloomington, which is unusually good run. Three trains were of coal.

FRANKLIN HAS BASKET SUPPER AND PROGRAM

The Men's Brotherhood of the Franklin M. E. church gave a basket supper and entertainment last night at the church, at which the special guests were the teachers, officers and scholars of the Sunday school. At 6 o'clock supper was served and all the good things of the season were provided in ample quantity.

Later came a program of addresses and musical numbers. Misses Ruth Armstrong, Esther Duncan and Helen Sorrells, of Illinois College conservatory, were among those who appeared on the program, furnishing some musical numbers which were well received by the company. There were a number of brief talks by members of the Brotherhood, all tending to create interest and enthusiasm in the work of the church and the Sunday school. Altogether it was a most worth while program.

TWO WEEKS' MISSION BEING CONDUCTED

A two weeks' mission is being conducted at the Church of Our Savior by the Redemptist Fathers. The first week is for the women and next week's services will be held for the men.

The Women's Mission opened last Sunday morning with high mass at 10:30 o'clock. Services are being held each morning and evening, with a good attendance.

OLD JACKSONVILLE TWO EARLY COMERS

By Ensley Moore (Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Two Early Comers

As has been so frequently said in these sketches, the general intent of them has not been often to refer to people and things notable here since 1865.

Among the early comers was

Barnabas Barrows who was born in Bridgeport, Addison county, Vermont, April 14, 1796. He was of English descent, as might be inferred from his birthplace. Two ancestors came over in the Mayflower; one settled in Mansfield, Conn. Barnabas came from the Pomphret family.

Mr. Barrows went to Kentucky, August 10, 1828, and spent several years farming. He also acquired a wife there, Miss Mary A. Craig; to whom he was married February 1, 1832. She was a daughter of James Craig, of Shelby county, Kentucky, who also came to Morgan county.

A Good Sized Family was born to Mr. and Mrs. Barrows, five boys and four girls, and all were living at least as late as 1872. Mr. Barrows lived on 30-14-9, about ten miles straight southeast of Jacksonville. He came here in the winter of 1830 and settled on his farm. He became quite early engaged in the raising of sheep, which was an essential employment when people did their own shearing, carding, spinning and weaving of wool, besides constructing some clothes, wonderfully made.

He Gave His Children schooling, with true Yankee instinct, an advantage few enjoyed in those days. He was successful in business. He had the misfortune to lose his wife in October, 1852, who had been "beloved and respected by her numerous circle of friends." She was a member of the Presbyterian church, as were her husband and family.

Married Again

Mr. Barrows was again married two years later, this time to Mrs. Butts. They were the parents of one child.

Mr. Barrows gave each of his boys, as they grew up, a half quar### ter section of land, or its equivalent.

An Anti-Slavery Man Mr. Barrows early became an anti-slavery man, perhaps that being part of the reason for his removal from Kentucky to Illinois. He had lived under every president of the United States until a good old age and was a strong Union man. He had a son.

Josiah A. Barrows, who entered the army August 8, 1862, in Co. D, 101st Regiment Illinois Volunteers. He was soon detailed to the topographical engineers of the Third Brigade, First Division, Twentieth Army Corps. He assisted in making a survey from Kenesaw mountain to Atlanta and Savannah, and from there thru the Carolinas to Richmond and Washington. His last bearing was from Fairfax C. H., to the dome of the capitol. He was discharged in January, 1865, and returned home. Mr. Josiah, was married to Annie E. Butts March 4, 1866.

Another Early Comer was Joel Corrington, who came here from Kentucky, where he was a saddler, but he became a farmer here. He was the father of John W. Corrington who was born ten miles from Paris, Ky., November 11, 1824. At the age of twenty-one years he was married to Miss Ann E. Cassell, daughter of Robert F. Cassell.

He came to this state at the age of eleven years, by river, up the Mississippi and the Illinois, to Beardstown, and thence to his future home in this county, altho Beardstown was then in Morgan county. His home was in section 12-15-9. He became the father of ten children and was one of the solid and reliable citizens of Morgan county.

Joel Corrington was 77 years of age in 1872, still hale and hearty, and his wife was a good second at 74 years then. John W. Corrington died March 22, 1911. The family has been one of those which helped Morgan county by coming and living here.

SURVEY REPRESENTATIVES VISIT OPEN AIR SCHOOL

A group of the Red Cross Survey staff, consisting of Miss Belden, Mr. Burgher and Miss Phelan, together with Superintendent H. A. Perrin, visited the Josephine Milligan Open Air Health School during the noon hour Tuesday.

Just before noon the pupils were seen at work at their movable chair desks. All windows were tilted so that fresh air was to be had on every side. Two teachers were in charge and several small groups were receiving instruction both as groups and individually. A record showed that this type of treatment is very effective for children who are below standard, physically.

The children then passed to their dressing rooms and the desks were placed along the sides of the room and cots and blankets were taken from the lockers and placed in rows, for use later. Each child put up his own cot and cared for his own blankets.

The children then passed to make their toilets for dinner. This being done by the boys in a separate toilet and dressing room and by the girls in similar separate quarters. Dinner was served in the dining hall to about forty children. It consisted of a menu approved by the nurse dietitian in charge. It had splendid nutritious values and was enjoyed by the children.

After dinner the boys and girls went to their dressing rooms and had a tooth cleaning drill. Later they passed to the school room proper, where the cots already made were used and the noon rest period of an hour began.

This is a rather striking tabulation of what happens each day during the noon hour at the Open Air School. It has become so common in the thought of many people in our city that the vast significance of it in terms of improved physical and mental life of needy children is sometimes lost sight of. However, it stands out as one of the most satisfactory and up-to-date methods of reconstructive child work that is to be found in any of the cities in the state of Illinois.

DANGERS OF "THE" DEMONSTRATED IN A TWO-REEL PICTURE

The danger to farm animals and to human beings from the neglect of animal tuberculosis is graphically illustrated in a new motion-picture film prepared and issued by the United States Department of Agriculture under the title, "Out of the Shadows." The story has to do with the happy family of Henry Benton, a wholesome farmer, with a large and handsome herd of dairy cattle.

A government inspector tracing an epidemic, suggests a test of the Benton herd and gives arguments that induce Benton to consent to a tuberculin test. The result of the test shows an appalling condition and explains the declining health of Benton's beautiful young daughter, who has drunk the milk of a favorite heifer. The clean-up of the farm and Benton's acquisition of a herd of cattle not affected with tuberculosis are results of the inspector's visit. The daughter, however, is not restored to health until after three years in a sanitarium.

The picture is in two reels and carries so strong a human-interest story together with its lesson that it is being widely sought through the loan system of the department, and through purchase by state and local organizations.

New trimmed hats can be seen at HERMAN'S every day.

"THE HEAD WAITER"

The funniest place in the world is a fine restaurant. Go into one some day and see. Or at least see "The Head Waiter." Here is a comedy whose top effect is maintained without a break from the opening to the close. The laughter is continuous. It is a picture literally without a dull moment. "The Head Waiter" deals with the subject of fun in a fashionable restaurant. It may be said that comedy can be created in any kind of surroundings, and that all settings can be made funny. But some settings are more easily capable of provoking laughter than others. Vitaphone made a happy selection when it conceived the restaurant as the setting for its super-comedy. A restaurant has the ingredients of the most crashingly funny situations conceivable. When such a wizard of comedy as Larry Semon steps into a restaurant and starts things, he finds a thousand objects with which to create laughter.

MAYOR SAYS HE WAS "PUBLIC FOOTWIPER"

P. W. Johnson of Marion, S. C., Retires to Private Life After Six Years as Mayor—Career Was Troublesome One.

MARION, S. C.—By the A. P.—A policeman's lot, sang the pirate chasers in the old operative satire, is not a happy one; but compared to the job of being mayor of this town the "hobbies" of the song were without a care in the opinion of Palmer W. Johnson, just back to private life after six years as "public footwiper," to use his own expression.

His retirement, Mr. Johnson announces joyfully, was by request. The folks indicated that they didn't want him as mayor and as editor of the Marion Star the ex-mayor shouted editorially "Glory be."

"One," said Mr. Johnson commenting on ways of his fellow townsmen during his six years in office and employing the plural tense sacred to editors and kings, "called us a gentleman and was promptly slugged by one who said we were a bum."

"They heaped all the troubles of the universe upon our weary bald pate—and then they lifted all our burdens from us by beatin' us at an election—Glory be."

Here are some of the things the ex-mayor noted during his six years as "the public complaint box and footwiper."

"We have settled land disputes, family disputes, dog disputes and some unfair accounts."

"We have been insulted, disgusted, spat upon and imposed upon."

"We have locked up culprits for wrong doing and then envied them, their place of limbo."

"We have been blamed for stopped showers, blocked streets, heavenly showers, poor telephone service and the present price of cotton."

"We have been cursed for cutting down trees and threatened with death for allowing other trees to stand."

"We have been blacklisted for the bum work of one policeman and ostracized for the sterling work of another."

"We have been called a liar until we almost believe it."

"We have become widely known as a grand rascal, an arch criminal, a desperado, a polley-player and a bigotted fool."

"We have been accused of attempting to give the Presbyterian church title to the Town Hall."

"Mothers accused us of over-running the town with dogs and dog owners blamed us with the deluge of babies."

"One bunch wanted hogs in town while another said there were too many hogs already."

"They cursed our name when mosquito time came."

"They yelled at us when the ditches ran over after having been filled to capacity by the good Lord."

"They blamed us for the many peculiarities of their neighbors, neighbor's chickens, dog, man servant, maid servant and mule."

"When the baby had whooping cough it was because we allowed the north wind to blow, and when it had colic it was because we allowed dope fiends to exhaust the supply of paregoric at the drug stores."

PASTOR FORGOT TO CALL FOR OFFERING

Washington, N. C.—By the A. P.—The action of an alert deacon in whispering to Rev. C. F. Hudson, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, that he had forgotten to call for the offering is probably the only thing that saved the collection at the Sunday night services.

When the usual time arrived for taking up the offering, the deacons promptly secured plates and took their positions at the end of the aisles to await the announcement from the pulpit, but the minister arose and delivered his sermon instead. Rev. Hudson was about to announce the closing hymn when a deacon told him the collection had not been taken.

"The congregation will please be seated while we take up the evening offering," Mr. Hudson announced, and the collection was saved.

Old citizens say they cannot recall a parallel case of absent-mindedness.

John P. Smith was in town from Murrayville Tuesday.

CLARA SMITH HAMON TAKES STAND; TELLS STORY OF SHOOTING

"Jimmie" and provide for her parents.

She said that Colonel Hamon repeatedly had told her that he intended to obtain a divorce and to marry her and that she had waited for that to be done.

A second contract bearing the signatures of Clara Hamon and Jake L. Hamon was read into the record. It set forth that the two had entered an agreement whereby Clara Hamon was to receive $35 a week as an employee of the colonel, subject to termination upon two weeks' notice and should a child be born to them, $35 a week should be set aside for the child during its life-time, that Colonel Hamon agreed to acknowledge it as legal issue and that upon the colonel's death the child should share in his estate.

Only a short time before Clara Hamon went to the witness stand she had been led from the court room almost in a condition of collapse, while deputy sheriffs and bailiffs ineffectually sought to clear the court room of spectators.

Mr. V. B. Walling, sister of the defendant, had testified that for a long while she had not known of the illicit relations between her sister and Colonel Hamon but that when her father, J. L. Smith, of El Paso, Texas, learned of them, he came to Ardmore to kill Hamon and was disarmed by the sheriff. State objected and it was sustained.

W. P. McLean of Fort Worth, Texas, leading counsel for the defense insisted that the question was proper and that how the entire family accepted the matter should be brought out.

Lawyers Near Clash.
H. H. Brown, special prosecutor interjected that the state was "willing for the jury to know how they took it, the old woman and all."

Mr. McLean was on his feet instantly and asserted that Mrs. Smith, who had been referred to as the old woman, was the equal, in his estimation, of the mother of any lawyer in the trial.

A roar of handclapping followed and the court was thrown into a furore as the presiding judge pounded his gavel and directed deputy sheriffs and bailiffs to clear the court room.

Because of the outbreak, court was recessed for one hour and the spectators were warned the case would be tried without their presence should another demonstration occur.

Clara Hamon described by her counsel as already on the verge of a nervous breakdown, wept bitterly as she commented on the remark directed at Mrs. Smith.

"I don't care what they do with me, but they must let my poor old mother alone," she said. Mrs. Walling and her 14-year-old daughter, Phyllis, testified that on the morning after Colonel Hamon was shot Clara came to their home at Wilson, eighteen miles west of here to bid them good bye before she left Ardmore on instructions of Colonel Hamon and his business manager, Frank L. Ketch, and that her throat, breast and hands bore bruises. Mrs. Smith testified that when her daughter came to her four days later at El Paso, Texas, on her flight into Chihuahua, Mexico, that the bruises still remained. Mrs. Smith testified that Clara is 29 years old, as the defendant herself declared a few minutes later.

That had been one of the states chief points of contention, it being sought to prove that she was a mature woman when she took up her association 10 years ago with Colonel Hamon.

SPECIAL SESSION OF U. S. SENATE ADJOURNS SINE DIE

No Further Nominations
Received from the White House

BLISS THIRD ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The special session of the senate which convened March 4th, to confirm important appointments of the new administration adjourned sine die today without receiving from the white house any nominations for diplomatic posts or for membership on the shipping board. The delay in shipping board shipments was attributed to a technicality of the merchant marine act requiring that all seven members of the new board must be named before any of them could assume his duties.

President Harding is understood to have been prepared to nominate two or three men for board membership but was not ready to send in the whole list. The president renewed his request to Admiral Benson now acting as board chairman under the old law to continue in that capacity.

Bliss Assistant Secretary.
The only nomination to a high administration post was that of Robert Woods Bliss of New York to be third assistant secretary of state. Mr. Bliss has had a long experience in the diplomatic service and he now is chief of the state department bureau of Western Europe Affairs. His confirmation was voted without delay.

There was no authoritative announcement tonight whether Mr. Harding would give recess appointments to former Representative John J. Esch of Wisconsin named for member on the interstate commerce commission and to the others whose nominations are held up by senate opposition. The general assumption was that the president at least would issue temporary commissions for several assistant secretarieships and other posts which he is not yet ready to fill.

INVESTIGATION OF MOB ATTACKS ASKED

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Governor Allen of Kansas was urged today in a telegram by Senator Ladd and Representative Sinclair of North Dakota to investigate mob attacks on Non-Partisan League organizers at Great Bend and to clear up charges that members of the American Legion were involved.

The message said, "we respectfully request that you promptly start investigation of the lawless action in your state by alleged members of the American Legion and others opposing the farmers movement. Such action reflects seriously not only upon your state and upon the nation, but it is unconstitutional, un-American, unjustifiable and cowardly invasion of the rights of free men."

"We further suggest that you ask the co-operation of the commander of the American Legion in clearing said organization of the nationwide charges that it was involved in the recent Kansas outrages."

Farmington, Mo., March 15.—Mrs. Luther Parsons, 15 years old, who was married a week ago, today was charged with first degree murder, in connection with the death of her six-year-old step-daughter, last Friday.

The little girl was shot in the head with a shotgun and died instantly at the Parsons home at Iron Mountain, near here.

The girl's ten-year-old brother, according to authorities, asserted he saw his step-mother loading the gun, following a quarrel with his sister. The child-wife is said to have told authorities she was playing with the little girl and did not know the gun was loaded.

She waived preliminary hearing and will be tried at the May term of court, it was said.

Lincoln, Ill.—By the A. P.—Logan county built gravel roads last year at a cost, approximately 50 per cent lower than those built by contractors, during the same year, according to a report to the Logan county board of supervisors made at Lawson, Highland, county highway superintendent.

Mr. Holland's report tended to show that road building under county supervision is a success.

Logan county was the pioneer county in the state to institute the cost-plus system in state-aid gravel road building. Gravel deposits were opened by the county three years ago. In seven such gravel pits the total estimated gravel deposits is 605,000 cubic yards.

At the present time, Logan county has 47 miles of state aid gravel roads. There are 34 miles graded, drained and with concrete culverts built, awaiting application of gravel.

LION'S CLUB MAY BE ORGANIZED HERE

District Organizer Talked to Local Men — Lion Club Purposes Outlined.

A number of local citizens have been interviewed by Richard E. Hackman, of Quincy, state organizer of the Lion clubs, who hopes to organize a branch in Jacksonville. There are 225 of these clubs in the United States, and the organization work in accordance with the motto of "Liberty, Intelligence and Our Nation's Safety."

In all cities where Rotary and Lions clubs are established they work in close co-operation, as they are both pledged to encourage those things that are for business and community betterments. Below are some facts about Lions clubs:

Lions clubs are non-political, non-sectarian organization composed of representative business and professional men who feel an interest in the welfare and progress of their city and community.

Lionism promotes the principles of good government and good citizenship.

Lionism takes an active interest in the civic, commercial, social and moral welfare of the community.

Lionism unites its members in the bonds of friendship, good fellowship and mutual understanding.

Lionism is designed to further education, enlarge social and civic opportunities, support the laws, direct public counsels, and in every way make the lives of men better and happier.

Membership is acquired by invitation only, and none but men of honor and of the highest standing will be asked to affiliate with the club. Only one active member will be as signed to each classification.

Code of Ethics.

1. To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

2. To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage or because of questionable acts on my part.

3. To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

4. Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.

5. To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

6. Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give to them my unwavering loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means.

7. To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

8. To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

GRAIN MARKETING PLAN APPROVED

National Conference in Chicago April 6th Is Expected to Take Favorable Action.

Springfield, Ill.—With twelve of the fourteen Illinois delegates for the ratifying convention of the Committee of Seventeen grain marketing plan chosen at the meeting of three farmers' and grain dealers' organizations at Springfield, Monday, William G. Eckhardt, grain marketing director of the Illinois Agricultural Association and one of the founders of the plan, expressed confidence in the near future of United States Grain Marketing.

"We are presenting to the farmers of the country a plan that will enable them to market their grain with the same efficiency that other business men market their products," Mr. Eckhardt declared. "The Committee of Seventeen plan is the result of months of research on our part and has been submitted to the enthusiastic approval of lawyers, financiers, economists and agriculturalists of national reputation. It is a plan that will benefit both farmer and consumer."

"The plan does not aim to cut production or to ask unduly high prices. It aims only to attune the market to the law of supply and demand, to check the present harmful speculation and to stabilize prices. We intend to use existing machinery of marketing as much as possible."

The ratifying conference of the national grain marketing plan will be attended by 107 delegates from 25 states, at Chicago on April 6th.

The committee of Seventeen plan, as explained to executive committees of the Illinois Agricultural Association, the Grange and the Farmers' Grain Dealers Association at the Springfield meeting, plan to put the farmer in control of the marketing of his grain by linking him with his own elevators and national sales association by five-year contracts.

The plan has already been endorsed by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The delegates chosen at the Springfield conference represent three Illinois organizations:

The Illinois Agricultural Association—Howard Leonard, Eureka; Robert N. Clarke, Stronghurst; D. O. Thompson, Chicago; A. C. Everingham, Quincy.

Farmers' Grain Dealers Association of Illinois—Harry Wood, Delevan; Homer Tice; Fred Mudge, Pawnee; T. R. Cain, Jacksonville; L. B. Olmstead.

The Grange—Eugene A. Eckert, St. Clair county; Frank Johns, Rockford.

The two remaining delegates are to be chosen later from three other organizations: the Equity Union, the Farmers' Union and the Illinois Grain Growers' association. The date when they are to be chosen has not yet been announced.

USING ARMY TRUCKS FOR ROAD OILING

Weaver Company Has Designed Satisfactory Oiling Attachment.

It is probable that not a great many people know that Morgan county has the ownership of five big army trucks which were assigned by the federal government to the state highway department and then allotted to this county. However, for more than a year past five of these trucks have been in Morgan county and are being used by road commissioners in different districts for dragging and other road work. The trucks are heavy and powerful.

It is understood that a plan was to allot five trucks to each county in the state without special regard to the size of the county. The requirement is made that $75 per year shall not be paid to the state highway department for the use of the trucks. It is said that not more than half of the counties of the state have taken advantage of this offer, with the result that the state highway department still has in Springfield more than 250 of these machines.

The suggestion was recently made that these trucks be used for oiling work. The Weaver Manufacturing Co., of Springfield, with which Charles T. Mackness of this city is identified, recently designed an oiler for the highway department and attached it to one of the trucks. Then an order was placed for others and the company is now doing quite a busy business in this line of manufacture.

The tank of the Weaver oiler holds 750 gallons of oil and the pump is connected direct with the transmission. Oil can be pumped out of the tank car into the oiler tank, using the same pump that is designed for distribution of oil on the road. The design of the equipment is such that the motor of the truck itself is used for power.

The state highway department road officials in Christian, Montgomery, Tazewell, Sangamon and Piatt counties have tried out the Weaver oiler and give it their thoro endorsement. Mr. Mackness was yesterday explaining a number of photographs which show very clearly how the oiler is designed and the method of operation.

OIL NOT CERTAINTY IN NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Statements to the Contrary Wholly Unwarranted, According to Chief State Geological Survey Division.

URBANA, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—While tests for oil along the northern Illinois border may not be unjustified, statements that oil is practically a certainty there are entirely unwarranted, according to F. W. DeWolf of Urbana, chief of the state geological survey division. Mr. DeWolf referred to oil excitement in McHenry and Boone counties.

Warning against drilling wells more than seven or eight hundred feet deep and caution against placing too great credence in statements that oil in great quantities will be discovered is issued by Mr. DeWolf.

From reports of state geologists was called out by inquiry from the vicinity regarding its oil possibilities. A recent visitor to Belvidere and Marengo secured a large number of leases, and interested various business men in proposed drilling projects it was reported.

I. A. Mylius, geologist in charge of oil studies, informed inquirers that "the whole of McHenry county is underlain by from one to two horizons that are giving oil production in other parts of Illinois, and which could give oil production in McHenry county if suitable structure could be found."

He implied that oil might be struck in Western McHenry county but owing to the lack of rock outcroppings tests might be made at the risk of disappointment.

The state geological survey has no detailed survey of McHenry county and none exists so far as its knowledge goes.

ILLINOIS FARM LANDS SHOW DROP IN VALUE

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois farm lands dropped 8 per cent in value the past year, it is estimated by S. D. Fessenden, agricultural statistician for Illinois.

From reports Mr. Fessenden has received he estimates that farm land value per acre averaged on March 1, 1921, about as follows: Poor plow lands, $106.48; good plow lands, $199.66; all plow lands, $159.32; all farm lands with improvements, $189.32; without improvements, $157.66.

For the previous year on March 1, the estimated values were as follows: Poor plow lands, $115.00; good plow lands, $212.00; all plow lands, $157.00; all farm lands with improvements, $204.00; without improvements, $170.00.

Mr. Fessenden declared that the crop production in Illinois is not keeping pace with the rapid growth of population. A greater number of small farms instead of so many large ones, and more intensive cultivation are remedies he advanced.

FRENCH ORPHAN ENDS LIFE JOURNEY

Letter to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Widmayer Tells of Death of Child in France They Adopted.

Acting in conjunction with the movement for the fatherless children of France, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Widmayer and daughters adopted during the war time Antoinette Ferzetti, a war orphan in Marseilles. Recently the foster parents have been saddened by news of the death of the little girl. She had often written letters in which her childish but sincere way she made known her appreciation of the kindnesses shown her.

The mother in a note to the Widmayer family gave these facts about the death of little Antoinette:

The letter read: "Dear Friends: I am going to give you in a few words very sad news. Our dear little Antoinette, whom we loved so much, has just been taken away from us by a sickness of just nine days. She died of acute attack of the heart. I had the doctor every day, but science has been powerless in the case of my dear little one. It helps to speak to you of the trouble which we feel. My dear little Antoinette, whom I shall no longer see, when I think of it, it seems to me for the time that my mind will leave me."

My dear friends, again many times thanks for all the good which you have done for us. In spite of the fact that our little Antoinette is no longer here, we shall not forget you. Good wishes from both of us.

The intention of the Widmayers is now to change the adoption papers to the sister, Cherise, and so carry on the work which they have done so well for many years.

It was voted to subscribe for 30 copies of the "Children's Home Missions." These papers are distributed by Mrs. Sydney Jones, who has charge of the children's work. It was decided to remember the Lenten season by an offering and this offering to be marked and placed in the basket at the church service on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. Reeve was the program leader for the afternoon and she was ably assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. C. A. Obermeyer, Miss Laura Fox and Mrs. Charles Hopper. During the social hour the hostesses served light refreshments. The next meeting is to be held April 19, at the home of Mrs. Charles Herald, 295 Sandusky street. The assistants are to be members of Group No. 5.

OVER $2,000 TAKEN IN AT TOURNAMENT

Principal Shafer announced yesterday that the total receipts of the District Basketball tournament were $2,051. This is between two and three hundred dollars more than was taken in last year and shows that the attendance was larger this year than ever before.

Of this amount 52 per cent goes to the visiting teams to pay their necessary expenses. If there is any money left after these expenses are paid the amount is divided equally among all the participating teams. This year the tournament management was able to pay to each team $21.70 over and above expenses.

The State Athletic association receives 8 per cent of the total receipts and 40 per cent goes to the local management. Out of this amount the local management pays all the expenses incurred at the tournament, such as paying the referees and paying the printing bills.

The money left after these expenses are paid will be used by the local management to purchase much needed athletic equipment for the high school and also to finance various school activities.

I. C. STUDENTS TO HAVE SERVICES

Series of Special Y. M. C. A. Services to Begin Today at Illinois College—J. Stitt Wilson of California to be in Charge.

It became necessary to postpone the beginning of the series of special services at Illinois college yesterday, as a telegram was received from J. Stitt Wilson, who is to conduct the meetings stating that he would not arrive until last night. It was therefore announced that the service which was to have been held at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning would be postponed until this morning at the same hour.

It is thru the Y. M. C. A. of the college that Mr. Wilson is coming at this time. The visitor, whose home is in California, is a worker of prominence among college students, having addressed thousands of such young people in various of the larger cities of the U. S. He is a graduate of Northwestern university and while taking his postgraduate studies there he conducted some special work in the slums of the city, thereby gaining some valuable experience in welfare work.

Soon after graduation Mr. Wilson went to England, where for five or six years he was engaged in studying labor problems and work among the poorer classes. Later he returned to the U. S. and became a resident of Berkeley, Calif., where he is in course of time was chosen mayor.

The series of special meetings at the college will doubtless prove of special value to the students and the association feels fortunate in having secured a man of such wide prominence to be in charge of the services.

REDUCE THE WASTE TO KEEP OFF WANT

In a good many railway stations are posted signs urging employees of the railroads to care for supplies—even such trifling supplies as single nails and spikes. A long list of articles, none of them costing more than thirty cents each, is given. Their aggregate value, in the numbers used on the railroad, is many hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

Wasting them or failing to save them, even when they are ready to be converted into junk, means tremendous loss.

Waste was characteristic of the war. It is characteristic of all wars. The problem of self-preservation becomes so all-absorbing that the lesser problems lose their significance entirely.

Waste has been carried over from the war into civil life after the war. In every business, in every industry, there is incalculable waste. When business conditions were most prosperous little attention was paid to this. It could easily be absorbed.

Now, however, with business much reduced, waste is being noticed. The fact is realized that waste may make the difference between profit and loss. In all large industrial corporations a special effort is being made to eliminate waste.

The same effort should be made on the farm, in the town store, in all enterprises. A list may wisely be made of the things that are commonly wasted and the ways in which they are wasted. It would be a good thing to post in the home as well as in the place of business. It might not lead to the elimination of waste, but it would lead to its curtailment.

SMITHS HOLD ANNUAL SPRING OPENING

A spirit of spring freshness pervaded the millinery shop H. J. and L. M. Smith yesterday at their annual spring opening. Baskets of bright flowers and decorative garlands added to the attractiveness of the display of millinery. A great many customers visited the store and found a variety of smart and becoming shapes. Transparent hats of marine and hair braids are one of the season's newest features in the millinery line and a great many of them were shown yesterday. Flowers are the most popular trimming used and as a result flower trimmed shapes were predominant in yesterday's display.

"Gifts That Last"

Buying Good Jewelry Is A Good Investment

Jewelry isn't a trinket that is bought today and forgotten tomorrow; it is something that carries with it a memory of a lifetime, a constant reminder of the donor and the constant appreciation of the recipient.

That is the sentiment behind our Quality Jewelry. The Diamond is the peer of "lasting gifts." The Watch has a favored place among "gifts that last." A Pearl Necklace is a prized possession.

WAS A BLESSING TO HER, SHE SAYS

Moline Woman Was Almost a Wreck—Tanlac Restores Her to Splendid Health.

"Tanlac has certainly been a wonderful blessing to me, for it has relieved me of troubles that had pulled me down and made life miserable for me for ten years and I just can't praise it enough," was the enthusiastic statement made by Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, of 352 First St., Moline, Ill.

"Before I got Tanlac I was almost a complete wreck. I had no appetite, and my stomach was so out of order I couldn't even eat a little soup without suffering intense pain. I lost steadily in weight and got so weak it was just all I could do to drag around the house. My head ached at times for a week on a stretch without letting up, and I was so nervous I didn't know what it was to get a little restful sleep. My kidneys bothered me dreadfully and my back ached fully two thirds of the time. Every day was just another day of misery for me. I could get no relief whatever, and was very much discouraged over my condition.

"My brother-in-law from Nebraska came to visit us, and told me he had been nearly as bad off as I was but had gotten relief by taking Tanlac, and got me to try it. Well, I began improving from the very start, and the medicine has built me up to where I am looking and feeling like an entirely different woman. I have a splendid appetite, my stomach never troubles me, I'm free from headaches, and have picked up until I now weigh more than I ever did before in my life. I never have an ache or pain, just feel fine all the time and never miss an opportunity to tell what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co. and J. F. Shreve, Wyke Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly and leading drug stores in all cities.—Adv.

BACKACHE OF WOMEN

The back is often called the mainspring of a woman's life. What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She cannot walk, she cannot stand, her housework is a burden, or the long hours behind the counter, in the office or factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from the ailments which often cause it.—Adv.

BRONZE TABLETS MARK HISTORIC LANDMARKS

Sites in Springfield Connected With Abraham Lincoln's Life to be Marked by Bronze Tablets Within Next Few Weeks.

Springfield, Ill.—The thirteen sites most intimately connected with Abraham Lincoln's life in this city will be marked within the next few weeks with bronze tablets.

When this task is completed Henry B. Rankin, 84-year-old resident, who probably has done more to mark places in Illinois associated with the Great Emancipator than any other one man, will have realized one of the most cherished ambitions of his life.

A fund of $1,300, of which the school children in Springfield contributed more than half, has been raised for the purchase of the markers. It is expected they will be set in place with appropriate ceremonies on April 15, the fifty-sixth anniversary of Lincoln's death.

Mr. Rankin's interest in Abraham Lincoln has been almost lifelong. He first met him in the Menard-county circuit court at Petersburg, Ill., back in 1846. At that time Mr. Rankin was ten years old and was acting as a messenger boy in the court room during court sessions. He is the author of "Personal Recollections of Lincoln," written during his 79th year.

Nearly six years ago, on the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's death, Mr. Rankin made his first appeal to the citizens of the state and Lincoln's home city to commemorate the president. War however, diverted the attention of the people and the project was forgotten for the time. Last month a group of prominent and patriotic citizens undertook to raise the funds and procure the markers without further delay.

In the selection of the sites to be marked, Mr. Rankin proved of invaluable assistance to the committee.

Each of the thirteen bronze tablets will bear a brief description of the place marked, serving as a comprehensive guide in the years to come. One of the tablets will bear this inscription:

"When Abraham Lincoln arrived in Springfield in 1837, on this site stood a two story building. The first floor was occupied by the general store of Joshua F. Speed. On the second floor, one room was shared by Lincoln and Speed as a bed room from 1837 to 1841."

Former Governor and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden are to provide a tablet to be placed in the present circuit court room, which formerly was the old representative hall. It will bear this inscription:

"Illinois House of Representatives, 1840-1876. This room is memorable as the scene of important events in the life of Abraham Lincoln."

"Here he delivered the immortal 'House Divided Against Itself' speech June 16, 1858. Here his remains lay in state when brought to Springfield for burial, May 4, 1865."

Several other inscriptions are these:

"On this site stood the Second Presbyterian church, in which the first session of the Illinois house of representatives was held (1829-1840) after the removal of the capitol from Vandalia. Abraham Lincoln was a member of the house of representatives."

"On this site stood the home of Ninian Wirt Edwards, where Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd were married November 4, 1842. In this house Mrs. Lincoln died July 16, 1882."

Still other tablets will mark the site of the law offices of John T. Stuart and Lincoln, the tavern where Lincoln and his wife once made their home, the office where he first received the news of his nomination, the site of the First Presbyterian church where he and his family worshipped, site of the building where he prepared and wrote his first inaugural address, and the place on the Wabash crossing where he made his farewell address to his fellow townsmen as he left for Washington to take up his duties as President."

Walk a Block And Save a Dollar

How many times have you seen this sign on billboards, in the newspaper, on stationery? Why do you suppose we use it? What does it mean? There is a reason for everything and there is a reason for these words. They tell you that a furniture store—a good furniture store—because it is located on a street that does not demand high rent (which is called overhead expense)—invites you to come and buy your furniture at a lower price than you can get it elsewhere. Men walk considerable distance to get their favorite smoke and women all have their favorite "shops" which handle distinctly feminine things. A good many people, however, do not figure out that it is the dollar saved that means a bank account saved in the end. It is such places as THE PEOPLES that have enabled thrifty people—young people who need to and have to save every penny—get somewhere. Have you ever seen

WHEN FOOD DOESN'T DIGEST

Give the Stomach a Rational Rest by Proper Aid. Not by Harsh Starvation Methods. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A sour stomach may indicate an acid condition that calls for an alkaline effect.

This you will get from one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after a meal.

Sour risings, gasiness, a heavy bloated feeling and such distress are usually due to indigestion or dyspepsia are usually only temporary. And yet they may lead to serious disorders. The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals reflects to a high degree the intelligent selection of preventative measures.

One cannot always select or inspect the quality of food to be eaten nor its methods of preparation. But it is possible to avoid the acidity that is so often the result. And it is a far better plan to eat without worry over what may happen, than to starve for fear it will happen. Many physicians recommend these tablets for stomach distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

They are sold by all druggists everywhere at 60 cents a box.—Adv.

"HUMAN ANIMALS" WORST ENEMIES OF TREES

Springfield, Ill.—"Human animals" are the worst enemies of trees, Dr. A. R. Crook, curator of the state museum of natural history said at the opening here of what is regarded as the first Boy Scouts School of Forestry in Illinois.

"Man not only cuts trees down," Doctor Crook said. "He burns them. Fires destroy more trees than all insects and animals together."

Interest that forestry has elicited on part of the boys has assured continuation of this school and establishment of other schools over the state. The school will continue two months. Suggestions for prospective schools may be had of the state forester, R. B. Miller, at the University of Illinois, Urbana.

There are 150 different kinds of trees in Illinois, some of them imported, Dr. Crook said. The state museum here has one of the most complete exhibits of Illinois trees extant. Specimen leaves and bark and wood of all the Illinois trees is shown with the location of their growth. The museum also holds a collection of specimens of 100 kinds of wood, cut so thinly that the design is seen by the light shining thru.

Dr. Crook has invited all Boy Scouts to visit the museum in Springfield, for ideas in opening their Forestry school.

THE CORN BELTER

(By B. E. Powell, 1003 W. Oregon St. Urbana, Illinois.)

The old saying that the human person is composed of three parts—soul, body and clothes—has a lot of sound truth in it. "Clothes do not make the man," once said Henry Ward Beecher, "but they make him look a lot better after he is made."

There is no denying it—clothes catch the women, and goodness knows, many a woman is aware that they are exactly what caught her particular man! Since Eve started in with the fig leaf the clothes, especially of women have influenced the destinies not only of individuals but of nations.

"Clothes," says Miss Leona Hope, Associate in Home Economics in the University of Illinois, "are what financiers call a good risk." They give a self reliance. To be successful, appear successful. The woman who works must be well dressed if she is to measure her full capacity for success. Women have been criticized for spending too much thought on dress. The criticism should be that women do not spend enough intelligent thought on dress. To understand the art of good dressing shows wisdom, not vanity.

"That the function of dress is not limited to protection and modesty is very evident. Witness the devotees of the goddess Fashion going about the streets on cold, rainy days in thin silk stockings and equally thin slippers, enduring for her sake all the discomforts of wet feet and attendant evils. Pity for the pretty young girl in immense white furs, sipping iced soda in a stuffy booth on a hot day, is wasted. Fashion knows no pain. Our fur clad young friend is conscious of her resemblance to a fashion illustration. What more could one desire? "A few of the roots of fashion are love of change, commercial interests, even national events. For example a woman of strong personality goes to a modiste who creates a gown for her, suited to her personality, type, and temperament and also for a particular occasion. The gown is worn in public places, is copied by fashion illustrators, and finally is adopted as "the latest style" and worn by hundreds of women over the land, for whom it is not suited. Again, commercial interests demand frequent changes both in design and weave textiles. If we appear in stripes like awnings this season, next season will behold us clad in orange like clowns; otherwise we might wear our clothes two seasons, contrary to the intention of manufacturers. A dressmaker once said that she could not continue her business unless the silhouette changed at least once a year. That national events urge the character of fashions is shown by the popularity of kimono sleeves during the Russo-Japanese war, and by military capes and the color battleship gray during the recent war.

"Fashion is nothing more or less than the predominance of a style. Herein lies its value. It unifies dress. How awful it would be if everyone dressed to suit her own taste. It would be all very well if everyone possessed good taste, but there have been only two nations, the Greeks and the Italians, and the latter only at the time of the Renaissance, who possessed universal good taste. Today good taste is usually defined as "my taste;" bad taste is the other fellow's taste. If a fashion were only given time to be understood, its defects would be discovered. Discovery of its defects would lead to their elimination and finally a fashion would be evolved which would express appropriateness, simplicity, and beauty. But this is not possible when "today we wear this, tomorrow that, and yesterday it was quite otherwise," as Charlotte Perkins Gilman so tersely phrases it. The reason the Greek era reached such heights was because the Greek aim was to perfect that which they already had rather than to strive constantly for something new. Greek dress had true beauty.

There are many evils in fashion. Novelty rather than art, loss of personality, adulation, extravagance, high prices, and positive disability are some of the evils which follow in the train of fashion. We are told that the labor market is frequently disrupted by the whims of the fickle goddess. Witness the overwhelming demands made on millinery shops just previous to Easter. Manufacturers, recognizing the mutability of fashion, are obliged over three years. I tried remedy

I found a treatment that cured me completely, and it has to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bed ridden, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from such forms of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power.

The past two weeks were spent in Iowa and Missouri.

DANGER OF INVASION BY ANIMAL DISEASES

In the opinion of John R. Mohler, chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Husbandry, there never was a time when the United States was more dangerously exposed to invasion by animal diseases than at present. Owing to the fact that during the war, European nations were unable to give the usual attention to the suppression of infectious diseases among animals, such diseases have recently spread to an alarming extent.

The present epidemic of foot-and-mouth disease in England is the most severe from which that country has suffered since 1892. Until the beginning of December, 1920, 79 outbreaks had been reported, with 10,429 animals slaughtered. The authorities are viewing the situation with some apprehension. Apparently, it is said, the virus is being constantly re-introduced from cattle shipped into the country.
A serious outbreak of rinderpest or cattle plague, is reported from Poland. The disease is believed to have been introduced deliberately by the Bolshevik army of Russia, which is alleged to have driven herds of infected cattle before it. Horself unable to check its spread, Poland has appealed to other countries for aid.
It looks as if part of the immigration this country will have to guard against is on four legs. Certainly, after all our cattle raisers have suffered in late years, first through losing cattle when prices were high because of severe weather, and later through selling for less than production cost, it will not be far to import difficulties.

HATCH EARLY

The early chick catches the profit. Poultry raisers know by experience that early spring is nature's most favorable growing season for chicks. Chicks hatched in late winter and early spring have a decided advantage over those hatched in hot weather. Given the same feed and attention chicks hatched in March will weigh more at the end of four months than those hatched in May when they are four months old. Early hatched chickens grow rapidly, have more vigor, and are less liable to injury by lice and disease. They are well on the road to maturity when hot weather comes, which retards growth, and they are mature by early fall and ready to lay when eggs are at their highest price.

FUNERAL OF WHITE HALL WAR VETERAN

Late James Barnhart Laid to Rest Tuesday Afternoon—Long Time Greene County Resident.

White Hall, March 15.—Funeral services for the late James Barnhart were held Tuesday afternoon at the Roodhouse Christian church. Brief services were held here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edwards, in charge of Rev. A. A. Carmean, pastor of the First Baptist church. Later the remains were conveyed to Roodhouse for further services.

Mr. Barnhart, who was a veteran of the Civil War, died at 2:05 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Estes Edwards on East Sherman street. He was a sufferer from cancer but it was not until recent days that he was confined to his bed. The deceased was seventy-three years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Barnhart was a native of Missouri, enlisting for service when he was eighteen years of age. After a year he was discharged on account of rheumatism coming to Greene county, Illinois, and locating at Walkerville where he and Miss Elizabeth Suttler were married. For a number of years they were located on the Hunt farm between Roodhouse and White Hall, and also resided in Roodhouse a number of years, their residence in White Hall being of shorter periods since the death of Mrs. Barnhart some thirty years ago, having resided much of the time with his daughter, Mrs. Edwards in White Hall. The other children are Ina, wife of Buel Barnes of Winchester, and William Barnhart of Roodhouse. A sister resides in Portland, Oregon, and there are two brothers, Thomas, of Belton and B. T. of Benton, Kansas. He was a member of Jacob Fry post, G. A. R., of Roodhouse. He was a charter member of the Roodhouse Christian church.

Illustrate Centenary Doings.
Rev. Joseph VanCleave of Chicago, area secretary of the M. E. church, will present, "What the Centenary is Doing," Wednesday night with the aid of some new illustrations that will make an important, and up-to-date presentation of this important Methodist activity, in which a number of our people have made investment in both cash and pledges, and the general public will thus have an opportunity of learning what one agency is doing to relieve the distress in war-ridden Europe. The lecture will be given in the main auditorium, and there is no admission charge it being the desire to get the facts before the general public.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Parties paying on real estate should bring their old tax receipts to save time and avoid mistakes. If paying thru the banks, leave your old receipts with your bank as soon as possible.
